FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of Hilltop Friendship Circle, the women's group of East Mattapoisett Quaker Meeting, was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Marian S. Hatton, on Beacon Street.

Routine business was transacted, and work commenced on many articles for the summer sale. The Circle will observe its third anniversary in March by going somewhere for luncheon. A food sale will be held in March, also.

Mrs. Hatton reported on Christmas projects. Mrs. Borden reported a visit to Lakeville State Sanitorium, to deliver scrapbooks made by her and Mrs. Marjorie Wilson, and how well cared for the crippled children patients seemed, and happier than would seem possible under their physical conditions. Letters of thanks were read from persons to whom Christmas gifts had been made by the Circle.

Mrs. Hatton was designated as the Circle's representative to a meeting to be held by Old Rochester Chapter, American Field Service.

Mrs. Ethel Johnson, a Marion member, who has been hospitalized for several weeks with a leg injury due to a fall, was reported by Mrs. Hatton as sufficiently improved as to be back at her home. Mrs. Lillian Johnson, good-will chairman, reported on cards sent to other shut-ins.

It was reported that Joseph Power, an overseer of the New Bedford Monthly Meeting of Friends, is on the lookout for a gas stove for use by the Circle in the Sunday School rooms. Other overseers connected with the Mattapoisett Meeting are Mrs. Dorothea LeBaron and Mrs. Edna L. Borden, who has been approved to fill the unexpired term of the late Joseph L. Hiller.

Mrs. Hatton reported having volunteered to assist in therapy at Mattapoisett Nursing Home, and other members will assist when the arrangements are organized.

Members were happy to greet Mrs. Ethel Morey who has been hospitalized, but is now convalescing at home.

The February 19th meeting will be held at Mrs. Hatton's, and members will each bring a valentine, and lunch. Beverage will be provided.

held at the Old Rochester Regional High School. Several new members from Mattapoisett were present.

Mrs. Henry B. Smith reported a good response to the sale of tickets for the annual American Field Service dinner and panel to be held at the Wareham High School on Thursday evening, January 31st. Ticket money was turned in to Mr. Otis C. Severance, faculty member at Wareham High School, who obtained the reservations. About twenty members of the new chapter plan to attend this affair. Mr. Stephen Galatti, director general of the National American Field Service, will be principal speaker.

Mrs. Cummins, chairman, announced that application had been made for a foreign student to the New York office and she would have concrete information for the next meeting. She also explained that the chapter could not send a student abroad this summer as the rules read that a chapter must first sponsor a foreign student before becoming eligible for the Americans Abroad Program.

Miss Carol Arenberg, chairman of the Student Council American Field Service Committee, reported that she would look into the matter of selling Shares in Democracy, one of the methods of fund raising, and report at the next meeting. The Marion Chapter of the American Field Service, before disbanding, voted to turn over the amount in their treasury to the new chapter and Mr. Severance, treasurer, reported that $660.12 was available toward financing the student who comes next fall. $700 is required to bring a student over.

TAX GUIDES AVAILABLE

Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Senator Edward M. Kennedy announced the publication by the Internal Revenue Service of three tax guides to assist taxpayers in the preparation of their 1962 income tax returns. These tax guides provide detailed information about the preparation of 1962 tax returns and include explanations of tax legislation enacted in 1962.

The first tax guide is a general treatment of individual income tax. Although it is designed primarily to help taxpayers in the preparation of their 1962 return, the important changes in the law which will affect 1963 returns for such things as travel, entertainment and business guests are also explained. "It may be helpful in making plans," said the Bay State Senators.

The Internal Revenue Service has also issued a Tax Guide for Small Business which explains tax requirements as they pertain to sole proprietorship, partners, partnerships and corporations. Income, excise and employment taxes are discussed in non-technical language and many examples are provided. The changes in the tax laws made by the 1962 Revenue Act are also explained. "This sould be expecially useful to the small proprietor," the two Senators said, "he is often the man on whom the most difficult tax decisions fall."

These two publications can be obtained from Internal Revenue Field Offices, or can be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C. The price is 40¢ per copy and a 25% discount for quantities of 100 or more. A check or money order made payable to the Superintendent of Documents should accompany all orders.

The third publication is the 1963 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide which comprehensively explains the Federal income and self-employment taxes as they relate to farmers. This publication, which is free of charge, may be obtained from the same source as the other two publications.

A STATEMENT BY CONGRESSMAN HASTINGS KEITH FOLLOWING THE PRESIDENT'S STATE OF THE UNION MESSAGE TO A JOINT SESSION OF CONGRESS

"Generally speaking, the speech reflected a justifiable pride in out nation's accomplishments, but I was disappointed that there was not more specific reference to cuts in government spending. These cuts must proceed or accompany any reduction in taxes. Our balance of payments is such that foreign governments may lose confidence in the American dollar if our deficit spending continues unchecked. This could have drastic consequences.

"A tax cut will stimulate demand and economic growth only if equal attention is given to the problem of reducing unnecessary government spending.

" I was sorry, too, that the President made no reference to oceanography. We are behind in this field and yet we could be the world leader in exploring and exploiting the resources of the sea. These are more practical and have even more potential than our space efforts.

"I noted the President's reference to the establishment of a youth program, patterned perhaps after the overseas Peace Corps. It is rather ironical that this comes at the time when the Defense Department is planning to abandon the voluntary high school ROTC program, which is one of our oldest and most successful programs for the youth of our country.
